

Title of Book	Author	Publisher	Summary
Children of Blood and Bone	Adeyemi, Tomi	Henry Holt and Company	When Zelig was a young girl, her mother was killed in the Raid to rid Orisha of magic. Now, Zelig has a chance to bring magic back. Will she succeed or will her feelings for an enemy get in the way?
I Am Not Your Perfect Mexican Daughter	Sanchez, Erika L.	Alfred A. Knopf	Julia is caught between devotion to her family and her sister's memory and need to fulfill her dreams and be her true self.
Ginny Moon	Ludwig, Benjamin	Park Row Books	Ginny needs to save her Baby Sister and will go to any lengths to make sure she is safe. But what is Ginny missing?
Long Way Down	Reynolds, Jason	Atheneum	Will's brother was shot and killed yesterday, and Will knows he needs to follow "the rules" and get revenge. During his elevator ride down, Will encounters people from his past who make him question if maybe "the rules" are wrong.
Invictus	Graudin, Ryan	Little, Brown and Company	Farway McCarthy's mom was a time traveler Recorder who gave birth to him outside of time. All he has ever wanted to do is explore history through time travel. On one of his tests, he meets a girl who leads him on adventures that make him realize time is not as steady as it seems.
The Love Letters of Abelard and Lily	Creedle, Laura	Houghton Mifflin Harcourt	Lily has ADHD and Abelard has Aspergers. They both find relating to people a little difficult. They bond over an old book called The Letters of Abelard and Heloise, and realize just because they are different doesn't mean they can't be happy.
When Dimple met Rishi	Menon, Sandhya	Simon Pulse	What's an American girl to do when her parents arrange a marriage? Rebel, of course. Dimple's matched to Rishi by her parents, who are determined to transform her into a traditional Indian woman, but can you really take the America out of the girl?
Autoboyography	Lauren, Christina	Simon & Schuster	After moving from California to Provo, Utah, Tanner hides his bisexual identity. In Provo, his new LDS friends leave Tanner searching to understand his own sexuality. His love for an LDS boy, Sebastian, sends them both on an introspective pilgrimage into sexuality, faith and the price some teens pay for sharing their true self.
Far From The Tree	Benway, Robin	Harper Teen, an imprint of HarperCollinsPublishers	After Grace gives her baby up for adoption, she is left with an emptiness in her heart. Her newly discovered siblings help ease her pain as they each share their own secrets.
Americanized	Saedi, Sara	Alfred A. Knopf	Sara came to the US at 2 years old as an illegal alien fleeing a war torn country. This book tells her life of being raised as an American, yet fearing deportation.
The Unlikelies	Firestone, Carrie	Little, Brown and Company	Sadie and her friends decide to spread positivity and in turn learn more about themselves and each other.

The 57 Bus	Slater, Dashka	Farrar Straus Giroux	Two teens riding the bus home from school: Sasha falls asleep; Richard plays with a lighter. Suddenly, Sasha's skirt is on fire and two lives are changed forever.
A Land of Permanent Goodbyes	Abawi, Atia	Philomel Books	This is a story about the consequences of war and shows the Syrian conflict as part of a long chain of struggles spanning through time.
A Psalm For Lost Girls	Bayerl, Katie	G.P. Putnam's Sons	Tess is a saint according to the town and her mother. But she dies, and cannot help the kidnapped child. Powerless, sister Callie knows a lot about her sister. Can she, should she stop the craziness? Who will help the child?
To Kill A Kingdom	Christo, Alexandra	Feiwel and Friends	Princess Lira is a lethal siren. Her evil mother the Sea Queen punishes her for an accident and she has to deliver Prince Elian's heart. All Prince Elian wants to do is be a pirate and kill the siren who killed his best friend.
Bang	Lyga, Barry	Little, Brown and Company	When Sebastian was four, he accidentally killed his baby sister. At 14, it still haunts him and he is waiting for the right time to kill himself. He bonds with Aneesa over a YouTube cooking channel and begins to feel a reason to live.
The Belles	Clayton, Dhonielle	Freeform Books	The Belles of Orleans have the power to make people beautiful. Camellia Beauregard wants to be the queen's favorite Belle. Once the favorite is selected, Camellia learns the court harbors some dangerous secrets.
Caraval	Garber, Stephanie	Flatiron Books	Scarlet finally receives an invitation to Caraval, a weekend of magic in a mysterious land. Soon after they arrive, her sister Tella goes missing, and Scarlet is drawn into a dangerous game.
Starry Eyes	Bennett, Jenn	Simon Pulse	Since last year's Homecoming Dance, best friends-turned-best enemies Zorie and Lennon have made an art of avoiding each other. To make matters worse, their families are a modern version of the Montagues and Capulets.
Dread Nation	Ireland, Justina	Balzer + Bray, an imprint of HarperCollinsPublishers	The Civil War is over, but it has brought the undead in its wake. As Jane nears the end of her training to fight 'shamblers', she is kidnapped and taken to a remote wilderness run by the evil sheriff and his father.
The Last Namsara	Ciccarelli, Kristen	Harper Teen, an imprint of HarperCollinsPublishers	Asha, the daughter of the Dragon King, uses the ancient stories to lure dragons to their death. She finally has the chance to kill the Ancient One as revenge for the attack she suffered as a child. Before she can, she has to figure out who is really the enemy.
Boots On The Ground: America's War in Vietnam	Partridge, Elizabeth	Viking, an imprint of Penguin Random House	The complexity of the Vietnam War is revealed through 8 distinct interviews, details of key figures and events, and over 100 pictures.
Mary's Monster: Love, Madness, and How Mary Shelley Created FRANKENSTEIN	Judge, Lita	Roaring Brook Press	A beautifully illustrated biography of Mary Shelly and how she created her most famous story, Frankenstein.

The Poet X	Acevedo, Elizabeth	Harper Teen, an imprint of HarperCollinsPublishers	Xiomara begins to question the faith that her strict and religious mami is forcing on her. She expresses her emotions in a leather journal to give her mighty feelings a voice.
Tradition	Kiely, Brendan	Margaret K. McElderry Books	James and Jules join forces to combat the dangerous sexism that has been allowed to continue at their elite boarding school. Together, they hope to bring awareness to some traditions that need to be stopped.
Speak: the graphic novel	by Anderson, Laurie Halse; illustrated by Carroll, Emily	Farrar Straus Giroux	Can art speak? Shout? Help you be heard? Speak: The Graphic Novel follows Melinda's heartbreaking, yet ultimately empowering, freshmen year at Merryweather High, portraying her journey from silence to healing. #MeToo
Dear Rachel Maddow	Kisner, Adrienne	Feiwel and Friends	Brynn Harper wants to drop out of high school. Life is just too much: breaking up with her girlfriend, her brother's death, plus her hideous stepfather. How to cope? Write poignant and humorous emails to Rachel Maddow. Unsent, of course. Or not?
Dare Mighty Things	Kaczynski, Heather	Harper Teen, an imprint of HarperCollinsPublishers	17 year old Cassie has always dreamed of traveling to space. Now she has to compete to secure her spot on a new classified mission.
Mercy Rule	Leveen, Tom	Sky Pony Press	Nobody realized the impact one picture can have on so many lives. This story is told in alternating point-of-view, and leads to an extreme conclusion.
After The Shot Drops	Ribay, Randy	Houghton Mifflin Harcourt	Bunny leaves his local high school to accept a full scholarship to a private school that can get him better exposure for collage offers. His ex-best friend is bitter and open to suggestions to level the playing field.
Tiffany Sly Lives Here Now	Davis, Dana L.	Harlequin Teen	When Tiffany's mother dies, she is sent to live with a father she has never met. She tries to adjust to her new life with a step-mother and step-sisters and a father who is very strict and challenges everything that makes Tiffany feel like herself.
Voices in the Air: Poems for Listeners	Nye, Naomi Shihab	Greenwillow Books, an imprint of HarperCollinsPublishers	Can you hear the voices? Will you listen? Ninety-five poems/short essays written to honor the voices of humans, both famous and not, contain unusual and profound observations.
Fatal Throne:The Wives of Henry VIII Tell All	Anderson, M. T.	Schwartz & Wade Books	Well-known YA authors examine the fatal throne of England's Henry VIII in this unique work of historical fiction. Get inside the minds of his wives and why Henry the VIIIth chooses to let each one live, or die.
Royals	Hawkins, Rachel	G.P. Putnam's Sons	Royals is a romantic romp through an imagined monarchy of Scotland. American teenager Daisy's sister is engaged to the Prince of Scotland. Her life turns upside down when the paparazzi decide Daisy is their next big story!
The Astonishing Color of After	Pan, Emily X.R.	Little, Brown and Company	Leigh is trying to find the answer to why her mother committed suicide and also relieve the guilt she feels from kissing her best friend instead of being home on that fateful day.

The Way You Make Me Feel	Goo, Maureen	Farrar Straus Giroux	After getting caught in a prank, Clara is sentenced to work in her father's food truck alongside her enemy. Can the girls learn to work together and even enjoy a summer full of friendship, summer loves and family?
The Special Ones	Bailey, Em	Houghton Mifflin Harcourt	Esther and 3 others are revered as The Special Ones who live under His protection and are not allowed to leave the remote farmhouse. If they don't follow the rules, they are punished. Esther is deeply troubled about her captivity and has to learn who to trust in order to escape.
The Summer of Jordi Perez (And The Best Burger In Los Angeles)	Spalding, Amy	Sky Pony Press	Abby has landed her dream summer internship at a dress store, but this year there are 2 interns. Abby, who is plus size fashion blogger, doesn't like pictures of herself. Abby starts to fall in love with Jordi Perez and is able to see herself through her eyes.
The Prince and the Dressmaker	Wang, Jen	First Second	Prince Sebastian, who secretly likes to wear dresses, hires Frances to be his personal seamstress. Frances helps him feel beautiful. This graphic novel is about what happens when people find out his secret?
We Are All That's Left	Arcos, Carrie	Philomel Books	Dual timelines follow a mom, a survivor of the 1990's Bosnian War, and her daughter, a survivor of a present day terrorist bombing in the USA. With her mother in a coma, Zara struggles with her memories, her mom, and PTSD.
Monday's Not Coming	Jackson, Tiffany D.	Katherine Tegen Books, an imprint of HarperCollinsPublishers	No one notices Claudia's best friend Monday is missing, except for her. Claudia refuses to accept this and tries to put together the clues that will lead to Monday and answers to her disappearance.
There There	Orange, Tommy	Alfred A. Knopf	A filmmaker follows 12 Native Americans of all ages who leave their urban lives to attend a Powwow in Oakland, trying to understand what it means to be a Native American Indian.
Cadaver & Queen	Kwitney, Alisa	Harlequin Teen	Steampunk meets Frankenstein when American Elizabeth "Lizzie" Lavenza enrolls in England's Ingold Academy of Medicine and Bio-Mechanical Science. A certain bio-mechanical, Victor Frankenstein, just might capture her heart, but will she pay with her life?
An Uninterrupted View of the Sky	Crowder, Melanie	Philomel Books	Bolivia, 1999. Francisco, 17, can't wait to graduate and start a business. After his father is imprisoned and his mother abandons the family, Francisco and his sister are forced to move into the prison.
Disappeared	Stork, Francisco X.	Arthur A. Levine Books, an imprint of Scholastic Inc.	Sara is trying to find her best friend and other missing girls in Juarez. Her brother Emiliano has been offered a lucrative job opportunity. Their work soon converges as they run for their lives from people who want to silence Sara.
Chasing King's Killer: The Hunt for Martin Luther King Jr.'s Assassin	Swanson, James L.	Scholastic Press	As Martin Luther King Jr is striving for peaceful demonstrations and leading the civil rights movement, James Earl Ray shoots and kills King which leads to the largest and most expensive manhunt of the time.

Losers Bracket	Crutcher, Chris	Greenwillow Books, an imprint of HarperCollinsPublishers	Annie navigates between her foster family and her biological family after her little brother disappears.
Little Fires Everywhere	Ng, Celeste	Penguin Press	When Pearl and her mom rent a house in Shaker Heights, they cannot imagine how their lives will become entangled with their landlords the Richardsons and their four children.
Starfish	Bowman, Akemi Dawn	Simon Pulse	Kiko, who is a half-Japanese 18 year old artist, is waiting to see if she got into her dream art school. She is ready to be on her own and leave her narcissistic mother behind. She runs into an old friend, and starts a trip of discovering she is worthwhile.
What I Leave Behind	McGhee, Alison	Atheneum	After his dad commits suicide, Will turns to walking the streets of Los Angeles to cope with his loss. Told in 100-word chapters, Will attends school and work, then tries to replicate his dad's cornbread recipe. After each failed attempt, Will walks. How long will it take him to walk off his grief?
#NotYourPrincess: voices of Native American Women	Edited by Charleyboy, Lisa and Leatherdale, Mary Beth	Annick Press	#NotYourPrincess is a stunning literary and artistic work. Combining memoir, poetry, prose, collage, photos et.al., #NotYourPrincess explores the identity of modern indigenous women while shattering the Pocahontas stereotype.
What The Night Sings	Stamper, Vesper	Alfred A. Knopf	Fourteen year old Gerta survived the Holocaust, but can she survive now as a displaced person, with no one to help her? Should she listen to the boys?
I Am Still Alive	Marshall, Kate Alice	Viking, an imprint of Penguin Random House	Jess, still painfully limping, is sent to the Canadian wilderness to her survivalist father, where she realizes that because of some secret in his past, he has been murdered and the house burned. She only knows she is alive today. Will she still be alive tomorrow?
The Cheerleaders	Thomas, Kara	Delacorte Press	There are no more cheerleaders at Sunnybrook High. When Monica finds anonymously written letters in her stepfather's desk along with her sister's old cell phone she sets off to find out what really happened. Secrets and lies never really stay hidden forever, do they?
Brazen: Rebel Ladies Who Rocked The World	Bagieu, Penelope	First Second	Short illustrated biographies about inspiring women that will make readers feel empowered and want to know more about these women's lives.
Pride	Ibi Zoboi	Balzer + Bray, an imprint of HarperCollinsPublishers	An Afro-Latino modern retelling of Pride and Prejudice that deals with gentrification.
Camp Valor	McEwen, Scott	St. Martin's Griffin	Secret government conspiracies surround a much-confused Wyatt, newly recruited to a teenage assassin academy. What will Camp Valor reveal about our government, and more importantly, Wyatt himself? A must-read spy thriller!
Price of Duty	Strasser, Todd	Simon & Schuster	Price of Duty is a brutal story of war and the real costs of battle for soldiers who serve. Told through the eyes of Jake Liddell, Price of Duty gives you the opportunity to decide for yourself the impossible question: Is war worth the price of duty?

Always Forever Maybe	Rissi, Anica Mrose	Harper Teen, an imprint of HarperCollinsPublishers	Beets meets Aiden and quickly falls for him. He soon becomes controlling and abusive, but Beets still thinks he is her one and only. After a tragic accident, she realizes she needs to let him go.
Not Even Bones	Schaeffer, Rebecca	Houghton Mifflin Harcourt	Nita dissects and harvests the organs of unnaturals to be sold online. When her mother brings home a live specimen to be sold piece-by-piece, Nita objects--and finds herself fighting for her own life.
This Story Is A Lie	Pollock, Tom	Soho Teen	Peter does not know what is happening or who to trust, so he relies on his incredible math skills to calm him and to help him find his missing twin sister and the person who stabbed his mother.
Love Hate & Other Filters	Ahmed, Samira	Soho Teen	Maya Aziz dreams of attending film school in New York City. Her parents want her to stay closer to home and to find a nice Muslim boy to marry. Just when her dream seems to be coming true, a terrorist attack changes everything.
Educated: A Memoir	Westover, Tara	Random House	Tara Westover grew up in remote Idaho, assisting her midwife mom and working in her dad's junkyard. At seventeen, with no formal schooling, she embarks on a journey to become educated.
Not If I Save You First	Carter, Ally	Scholastic Press	Logan, the son of the president, and Maddie, the daughter of a Secret Service agent, narrowly escape a kidnapping attempt when they are 10. Maddie's dad moves her to Alaska. 8 years later, Maddie and Logan are reunited and have to rebuild their friendship while trying to stay alive.
When Life Gives You Demons	Honeybourn, Jennifer	Swoon Reads	17 year old Shelby Black is secretly training with her uncle to an demon hunter. She can't tell her best friend or her (secret) crush about her double life. Through a quick turn of events, Shelby realizes she is not the only one with a secret to keep.
She Rides Shotgun	Harper, Jordan	Ecco, an imprint of HarperCollinsPublishers	Polly, her bear, and her dad go on the run after being targeted by an Aryan prison gang.
American Road Trip	Flores-Scott, Patrick	Christy Ottaviano Books, Henry Holt and Company	Three siblings take to the road to find themselves after the oldest brother comes home from war with PTSD.
A Blade So Black	McKinney, L.L.	Imprint	After grieving her father's death, Alice is able to see Nightmares. Addison Hatta from Wonderland becomes her mentor to train her to fight the Nightmares and focus her Muchness.
Hey, Kiddo: How I Lost My Mother, Found My Father, and Dealt with Family Addiction	Krosoczka, Jarrett J.	Graphix, an imprint of Scholastic	Honest, moving and graphically interesting love letter to grandparents and teachers. Encourages kids to stick with their dream.
The Stars at Oktober Bend	Millard, Glenda	Candlewick Press	So broken she cannot speak, Alice writes poetry, and leaves it pinned to places. Manny, also broken, finds it, and is changed by it. When evil revisits, will they take their revenge as the world melts into chaos?

Blood Water Paint	McCullough, Joy	Dutton Books	This powerful novel, written in verse, tells the story of Artemisia Gentilesch, a Renaissance painter from the 1600's. In a society where men mattered, she suffers horrendously, but refuses to hide. She uses her suffering to inspire her iconic paintings.
A Heart in a Body in the World	Caletti, Deb	Simon Pulse	Annabelle flips off the grid with a snap decision to run from Seattle to Washington DC as a way to deal with PTSD from a traumatic event. But it's not helping when everything she runs into reminds her of the horror of "the Taker."
A Short History of the Girl Next Door	Reck, Jared	Alfred A. Knopf	Neighbors Matt and Tabby have been best friends since childhood. He secretly wants to be more than friends. When she starts dating a popular senior, Matt feels his life couldn't get any worse and then it does.
I Have The Right To: A High School Survivor's Story of Sexual Assault, Justice, And Hope	Prout, Chessy with Abelson, Jenn	Margaret K. McElderry Books	Chessy Prout's memoir tells her story of sexual assault at a prestigious boarding school by a senior when she was a freshman and the bullying and ostracization she endures as a result. She begins to heal as she becomes a voice for other survivors.